SAVE the pretty trees, and plant more of them. Let the proposed City Building be located elsewhere than on the Market Street Esplanade.

If I were in BARBOUR RUSSELL's place I would send to the city a bill for rent for the Sons of Rest who occupy my window and door sills. Why are not the iron settees replaced on the Esplanade, that the loafers may occupy them instead of blocking the doorways of private property?

ATTORNEY GENERAL N. B. HAYS, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, will speak at the Courthouse in this city Monday evening. I advise all my Democratic friends to attend and to hear him tell what a lot of rascals are now in the saddle at Frankfort.

It has been suggested—and the suggestion is not unreasonable—that property owners who pay the entire cost for putting down brick streets in front of their own property should not be called on to pay any part of the cost of street "repairs" in front of the property of others. Think it over.

Isn't it strange that a fellow who fills himself with rotgut whisky until the police have to fill a jail cell with him, never calls on the fellow who sold the whisky to get him out of trouble? And, if he did, wouldn't it be a strange thing if the whisky-seller should help him? Don't all answer at once.

DESPITE all the proclamations and appeals of the authorities and of the press, there comes from the big cities the usual long list of fatalities and injuries from "fireworks" on the Fourth of July. Only those who were killed are likely to profit by the advice that will be given again next year.

At the last meeting of the Board of Councilmen a proposition was launched to erect a City Building on the Market Street Esplanade, the voters at the next election to decide on an issue of $25,000 worth of bonds for that purpose. By all means let's have a creditable City Building; by no means, destroy the Esplanade in order to put it there.

WHEN the Gang falls out the fur begins to fly. Attorney General NAPOLEON BONAPARTE HAYS, who is a member of the Official Cabinet of Democrats at Frankfort, has shied his old felt hat into the arena, and wants to be nominated for Governor. That he may secure support from the overworked "Great Common People," he is telling out of school some of the things he learned while a member of the Frankfort Machine. In a speech at Newcastle some days ago he asked the G. C. P. to plump these conundrums at the other fellows who are running for Governor—

"Do you stand for a policy which takes from the common schools of the state $28,260.84, to pay for a lot of teachers' registers and trustees' record books worth only $3,000? If elected will you continue such a policy?"

"Do you stand for a policy by which a clerk in the Insurance Department is paid $150 per month in order that said clerk may send a favorite of the State Machine $50 monthly at the expense of the taxpayers?"

"Do you stand for a policy which enables the Machine to take from the people's pockets $124,681.25 every four years to pay favorite Attorneys, when it could and should not cost them more than $24,000?"

"Do you stand for a policy which will take from the pockets of the people $40,000 to pay an architect for a set of plans and specifications for the new State Capitol when they could and should have been furnished to the state at a cost of not exceeding $16,000?"

"You have a right to know how these gentlemen stand on these questions, which so vitally affect your interests; and you want to and ought to retire every man to private life who stands for such a policy."

BAKING POWDER FACTS.

The ideal baking powder is the one that produces the largest proportion of pure carbonic acid gas, that liberates this gas just fast enough, and one that leaves no harmful residue in the bread or cake. These results can only be perfectly attained by the use of pure cream of tartar and soda. There is no possible reason for the use of alum, ammonia, etc., except to increase the profits of the maker.

CHENOWETH'S BAKING POWDER

is made to supply the demand for an absolutely pure and reliable powder. It is a cream tartar and soda powder and is always fresh.

The Ledger's Washington Letter

Special Correspondence Public Ledger.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23, 1906.

It is a strenuous business watching the dying hours of an expiring American Congress. The rigor mortis is quite trying on the patience and on the nerves, and when it is "all over" and the janitor-undertaker assumes charge of the vacant halls, the transformation is quite sudden and uncanny. The first session of the Fifty-ninth Congress was of seven months duration, and the amount of the work attempted or accomplished may be judged when it is known that more than 20,000 measures, bills and motions were introduced during the session, and that 40,000,000 words were uttered by the Senators and Congressmen and transcribed by the official reporters and stenographers.

We undertook to see the closing hours of both Houses and stayed with them all day last Friday and Saturday and half of both nights. Congress was scheduled to adjourn Friday, June 29th, at 11 o'clock a. m.; but there was a disagreement between the Senate and House conferees over the Public Building Bill (the "pork barrel"), and a recess was taken. Then there was another hitch and three more "recesses" were taken, and it was a quarter of twelve Friday night before the Senate adjourned until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Saturday, June 30th, was one of the most remarkable days the Capitol has experienced for many years. The mercury indicated 102° in the shade on Pennsylvania avenue and in the Senate and House the members were panting and fanning for dear life. The business of Congress had been finished and all was ready for sine die adjournment. President Roosevelt and his Cabinet were in the President's room in the Capitol when the last bill, the Public Building Bill, was placed before him to sign. Then a mistake of $3,000,000 too much was found in the bill. The entire measure had to be returned to the Engrossing Clerk and a new copy transcribed and reprinted. This occupied several hours. In the meantime both Houses indulged in four more recesses.

The President, dressed in a cool white linen suit and white hat, tried to take it easy at the Capitol, and remained there for several hours. At 1 o'clock he lunched with Senator Warren of Wyoming in the latter's committee room;

Gossip From the Nation's Busy Capital

Next he visited the Senate barber shop and was shaved; then he got so hot that he took a shower bath, after which he strolled about the Capitol Building and seemed to enjoy the visit as something new and novel. He then wound up the afternoon with a visit to the Congressional Library, where he made a brief examination of a score or more of books and MSS.; then back to the White House for dinner. He left Washington Saturday night at 12:08 a. m., over the Pennsylvania road to join Mrs. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay. At the Capitol President Roosevelt laughingly denied that he was breaking down from stress of worry and labor. He said he never felt better in his life. Yet last Sunday morning when he reached Oyster Bay he was so worn out that he was forced to go to bed.

For several hours prior to adjournment the House of Representatives resolved itself into a farcical musical of the vaudeville variety. There was a general handshaking and love feast, and a score or more of the most enthusiastic Congressmen led the shouting and the singing. They acted like a lot of college frats and yelled and sang for hours. Speaker Cannon, who is a jolly old blade himself, allowed the fun to proceed. They sang "My Old Kentucky Home," "The Old Folks at Home," "Old Black Joe," "My Maryland" and many other sentimental and religious airs, and wound up with—

"We're going home,
No more to roam;
No more to sin or sorrow;
No more to wear
The brow of care—
We're going home tomorrow."

There was no vaudeville or high jinks in the Senate. The House has 400 members and is easily stamped and hard to manage. It's different with the august and dignified Senate with only 91 members. Everything, as a rule, is done in the Senate "decently and in order," and it is positively edifying to observe with what fairness, dignity and firm affability, Vice-President Fairbanks presides over the deliberations of the Senate of the United States. He is one of the most admirable looking men we ever saw; of towering personal presence and of cool commanding intellect and mein. He is one of the great men of our country and if he is ever elected President his administration will be a notable one. He is six feet two inches tall, and sitting in the Vice-President's chair for hours in statue like repose, with his shining marble brow, he is "a cool proposition" indeed, and looks every inch the ideal American statesman. But Mr. Fairbanks is only half—you must see Mrs. Fairbanks and him together if you would witness a living demonstration of the perfect and congenial example of matrimonial bliss. Mrs. Fairbanks is a lovely woman, with a winning smile and a charming personality. Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks have grandchildren, we believe, but they both look young; Mrs. Fairbanks particularly looks more like a young married woman than a grandmother. She is a rather large blonde and wears the cheery and dimpled smile that characterizes all truly amiable and beautiful women. It is a treat to see this happy couple driving in the parks in their Victoria with two liveried drivers on the box.

Another no less interesting sight is to see the Hon. William H. Taft, Secretary of War, in one of his characteristic walks. When he's in full action, and in a hurry, "The Bill Taft walk" is quite the jolliest example of pedestrian athletics one ever beheld. Judge Taft a year ago weighed 300 pounds, and by a course of training and walking he has reduced his avoirdupois to 250 pounds. He walks with a great, rolling swing, with both arms swinging like two pendulums, and, though a very large man, he moves rapidly and with the ease of a youth.

The next President of the United States will be either W. H. Taft or C. W. Fairbanks.

Theodore Roosevelt is positively said to be out of the race and will issue an ultimatum to this effect at the proper time.

At 6:30 p. m. last Thursday, President Roosevelt reviewed the 28 Companies of the District National Guard on the ellipse or White Lot, as it is called, situated South of the White House.

The President rode a bay saddle horse and sat like a veteran cowboy. He was dressed in riding togs with slouch Panama hat and red cavalry boots. Roosevelt is a wonderful man and is like what Johnson said of Charles the Twelfth of Sweden—

"A frame of adamant, a soul of fire,
No dangers fright him and no labors tire."

President Roosevelt's popularity is not confined to America. It is said that all over Europe and in the wilds of Russia, and in the countries of Asia and Africa, and even in the jungles of the antipodes and Polar Regions, the picture of Theodore Roosevelt adorns the humble homes of millions of peasants who regard him in the light of a demi-god of practical wisdom and enterprise and as their champion and the common people's savior from industrial oppression and corporate greed.

President Roosevelt will deliver the Fourth of July oration at his home town, Oyster Bay. He will not return to Washington until October.

Senator Beveridge, who was slated to deliver the Fourth of July address before the American Chamber of Commerce at Paris, was compelled to cancel the engagement, and to remain in the Senate to push his fight against the meat packers. He won a big victory by staying. However, he is a handsome young bachelor, and seems to be enjoying himself here in Washington, as he came to the Capitol Saturday evening in a pretty little auto with a mighty pretty girl handling the machine.

The other day in the Congressional Library we had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Virginia Campbell Thompson, who was Postmaster at Louisville for 13 years. Mrs. Thompson is the seventh of fourteen children born to Alexander Campbell of Virginia, founder of the Church of the Disciples, or Christian Church. She is now employed in the Library at a good salary and resides with her daughter in this city.

A few minutes after meeting Mrs. Thompson, we ran across Mr. Samuel Pugh Agnew, a nephew of ex-Congressman Pugh and a native of Vanceburg, Ky. Mr. Agnew has been for several years employed in the auditing room of the Congressional Library. He is prospering and two weeks ago he was married in St. Patrick's Church here to Miss Katherine Virginia Evans, daughter of Mr. William Evans of the Pension Bureau. After enjoying a short outing at Virginia Beach, they will journey to Vanceburg to visit his many relatives and later will return to Washington to reside. The many friends of this handsome and worthy couple extend warmest congratulations.

Congressman Bennett of the Ninth Kentucky District and his Secretary, his son Arthur Bennett, returned to their home in Greenup a few days before Congress adjourned. Mrs. Bennett remained with her children at home all winter. The Judge and Arthur had a cozy home and office at 514 Third street, N. W., and were popular with all.

Mrs. W. F. Schooler and her pretty little daughter, Lillian, arrived from Cincinnati last week to spend the summer here with Mr. Schooler. At present they have pleasant apartments at the Tremont House, but later will seek cooler and more comfortable quarters. Mrs. Schooler and Miss Lillian are enjoying good health and Mr. Schooler is happy to be there once more.

Washington is experiencing an ice famine and this commodity has doubled in price this week. Shortage of ice has practically cut off the milk and icecream supply and is having a serious effect on the hotels and restaurants and summer only has just begun.

Tomorrow is the "Glorious Fourth," and if you ever spent a Fourth in Washington you will never wish to spend another one here; for there is not only a hot time in the old town, but they generally make a veritable pandemonium of patriotism, and use 20 tons of fireworks.

A. F. C.

There was a pleasant picnic and dance on the beautiful lawn of Mr. Thomas F. Maher near Washington last evening.

Two men were killed yesterday at the Cincinnati Water-works by the falling of a 60-foot smokestack on which they were working.

Rev. R. J. Graetz of Augusta, who preaches at the German Church in this city, has received a call to become Pastor at Powellville, Scioto county, O.

Miss Josephine Hood, the young lady from Asheville, N. C., who has been missing from her home for some months and is being sought by the police of the country, was a graduate of the College at that place, in which a young lady of this county is a teacher. She is said to be a very handsome girl.

The Superintendent of the Maysville Water-works is a Hydraulic Engineer, and not a Spectacle Mender. Notice had been given that water would be turned off last evening at 6 o'clock for a few hours, to change valves at Fourth and Limestone. Superintendent Schaefer had the changes made and the water turned on again at 8 o'clock—before most people knew it had been turned off at all.

BUSINESS MEN make it a point nowadays to dress the part. They find that it pays. The solid, substantial citizen wears solid, substantial clothes, yet they are neat and attractive—stylish, in fact.

But the business men's style is not as the style of others. Our clothes have it.

FEARIS.

Farmers came near catching up last week. Oats and timothy crops seem to be good. Oats are getting ripe.

The rains are making corn, tobacco and garden "fruit" grow fast.

A. S. Cole, N. P., was at Trinity Tuesday on Postoffice business.

William H. Rinehart is visiting a sick brother in Columbus, O., this week.

Several attended the Old Settlers Reunion at Ruggles Campground Wednesday.

Come out to Campmeeting at Mower Park Sunday. Begins Thursday night.

Rev. H. W. Bunton, the new supply for this place, preached here Sunday evening.

Mr. Thomas Bigger, Jr., Paris Fearis and wife of Trinity were guests of friends and relatives here Sunday.

Miss Lena M. Mower returned Tuesday from a four weeks visit to relatives in Columbus and Marietta, O.

E. Kayata and Mary Cole are still on the sick list and don't seem to improve much. Kayata will take a vacation.

Mr. C. P. Himes and daughter, Bertha, of Trinity, were guests of Mr. Himes's sister, Mary E. West, here Sunday.

P. S. Boyd, son-in-law of J. W. Fearis, suffered with some kind of paralysis of the tongue a few days ago. Dr. Burdick was called and after so long a time got Perry's tongue so he could partly articulate again.

Mrs. Emma Dunbar returned home Sunday from a few weeks visit to relatives at Trinity, and is improved somewhat in health.

Willie Fry, wife and brother, who went to the city a few weeks ago to reside, are back among the green and attractive hills of old Lewis county.

The Oddfellows of Trinity are now in and doing business in their new Hall. They report work every meeting in recruits and degrees. Their Hall is a credit to their stability and good judgment, and would be an ornament for some large town or city.

SPRINGDALE.

Miss Leona Ryan spent the 4th with friends in Portsmouth.

Mrs. C. C. Dogman is spending a few days with her daughter in Fleming.

Master Louis and Miss Margaret Otto enjoyed Old Settlers Day at Ruggles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tully had a strenuous experience last Sunday. While driving through a neighboring farm a swarm of bees attempted to settle on the horse's head. It began to run at a furious pace. Fortunately the road was not bad, and by the time a gateway was reached, where Mr. T. would have pulled into a field of fine corn, the bees, some of them entangled in the foretop, had departed, and the agony was over.

Wheat harvest is completed and the question of yield is divided, some farmers say half a crop others claim it's a good one; take your choice; same as to rye. Oats have come out wonderfully and will soon be ready to cut. Corn and tobacco are making a rapid growth. The hot sunshine and warm nights with abundant showers are doing the work. Meadows came to the front after the 10th of June, but as a rule are very weedy. The second crop of alfalfa is being cut. Apples, peaches and blackberries are now ripe.

BOGGS.

Very severe colds are prevalent throughout the community.

The Ladies' Aid Society met Thursday with Mrs. Lizzie Truitt.

The Fourth passed off very quietly here with everybody at work.

The election of officers of Ebenezer Presbyterian Church was postponed.

Dr. Hill has arrived from West Virginia and is boarding with J. W. Tully until the arrival of his wife and child.

Rev. M. Waller, D. D., of Maysville was here from Saturday until Monday and filled Dr. Whitfield's appointment Sunday.

Our Sunday-school is flourishing, and we sincerely hope that the retrogressive influence of campmeetings will not reach us this summer.

Mrs. Lida Hord has been employed to teach our school, which will open July 16th. Mrs. Hord has the name of being a good teacher. There are 60 scholars in this district.

No work has been done on our pike this year, and no overseer has been appointed. Our county officials look after one thing more carefully. They are too busy to take much thought of roads.

It's no indication that a man's a big lawyer because he carries a big law-book.

F. P. Tully has erected an elegant monument in Ebenezer Cemetery to the memory of his wife.

The dirt taken up off Third street is being utilized to a good advantage in broadening and evening up Postoffice avenue.

Whatever may be said of the slow progress of the brick streets, the same cannot be said of the new sewer being put down in Market street. Every minute of time is put in by a full corps of workmen, and the work is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily.

At the Teachers' Examination held in the Courthouse several weeks ago the following applicants were awarded County Certificates—J. R. Stevens of Bernard, Bertha Berlin of Ripley, Mattie Irvin of Washington, R. G. Moody of Orangeburg, Elwood Fry of Trinity, Martha Dillon and Sudie Wright of Sardis, Sherman Dale of Tollesboro and Mary Coryell of Orangeburg.

The following colored teachers also received County Certificates—Sara Wood of Manchester, O., Janet Carr of Portsmouth, O., and Francis Smith of Columbus, O.

The above are eligible to teach school in Mason county.

Our Colored Citizens.

Mrs. Ed Gordon spent the Fourth in Cincinnati with friends and relatives.

Mr. Samuel Munday of East Third street spent the Fourth with relatives and friends at Lima, O.

Mr. Alex Morton and son of Covington were in the city Wednesday en route home to Plumville.

Mrs. Henrietta Sykes of East Third street is still very sick, with slight hopes for her recovery.

Quite a number of the theater-goers attended the picnic and moonlight fete at Mayslick on the Fourth.

Mr. R. J. Ross, the well known horse trader of Paris, was here Monday, County Court Day, buying and trading horses.

Rev. O. A. Nelson left Wednesday for Flemingsburg, to assist the Rev. A. Walker in an eight days' financial meeting.

Messrs. Horrocks & Clinger of Ashland have the contract for the brick work on a large addition to the plant of the F. A. Neider Company at Augusta.

D. M. Drenan, formerly of The Vanceburg Sun, has removed his family from Batavia to Washington C. H., O., where Mr. Drenan is employed on The Record of that city.

Regular monthly meeting Joseph Helser Post No. 13 at G. A. R. Hall, Cox Building, at 7:30 this evening. G. W. CHAMBERS, Commander. John M. Shepard, Adjutant.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
